The Annual September Furniture Sale

Begins This Monday Morning, August 30, and Continues Throughout the Month of September

This is a Furniture Sale of greatest helpfulness—and it is—greatest to new homemakers, greatest to those refurnishing their homes, greatest to newly married couples, greatest to those wanting only an odd piece, a few pieces for here and there, or enough new furniture for one or two rooms.

In this September sale we offer the largest, most complete, and best selected stock of Furniture this store has ever shown.

Fine Bedroom Suites, ranging from 3-piece to complete chamber outfits.
Handsome Dining-Room Suites.
Odd pieces of Dining-Room and Bedroom Furniture.
Luxurious Chairs and Davenport.
Fine Individual Pieces for Library and Hall.

Furniture of solid mahogany, mahogany finish, solid oak in all standard oak finishes, circassian walnut, maple, white enamel.

In the whole assortment there is no furniture that is not of the right kind—right in quality, in construction, in design and finish.

There are exclusive designs in large-quantity lots, as well as close-out lots and sample lines, bought at great concessions in price. Marked to save from 15 to 50 per cent.

THIS FURNITURE SALE SHOULD BE INTERESTING TO ALL.

There is Furniture for every room in the home, from the modern American furniture to the beautiful period designs so popular at this time—at prices within the reach of all—including:

The Adam Design, with its graceful lines, delicate decoration of urn, blue bell, and drop hush—the characteristic of this refined period.

The Colonial Design, with its staid and massive appearance, scroll feet, swan neck standards, molded drawn fronts—points inseparable from the genuine Colonial design.

William and Mary Furniture—This period embodies all of the principal features, namely, the artistic turnings, graceful shaped stretches and quaint moldings on doors and drawers fronts, octagonal turned legs in combination with the arched tops and the Flemish scroll under the framing—a design of taste and refinement.

THE COST OF THIS GENUINE PERIOD FURNITURE IS ONE OF THE MOST AGREEABLE SURPRISES.

The Annual September Sale of Framed Pictures, Colonial and French Mirrors

Is Another Event that Contributes to the Importance of the Month of September in Homefurnishings.

The September Sale of Pictures is well known, and this year we have added a generous collection of Colonial Mirrors, which are so much used in the decoration and practical convenience of the home.

A very choice selection has been made of the best old and new subjects available. These subjects have been treated in a manner that shows their worthiness to best advantage, and in some instances new effects have been developed and produced, lending a new charm to an old subject. All the favorites are assembled.

Not a little of the interest centers around the beautiful designs in patterns and colorings of frames. This is especially true of the Mirrors, which may be had in gilt, mahogany and white.

Both Pictures and Mirrors are in larger sizes and better qualities than prices so low as these have ever bought.

NEW STATUE OF KAISER.

"United Germany Never Vanquished," Says Inscription on Base.

Paris, Aug. 29.—The design of an equestrian statue of the Kaiser, which is to be erected at Heidelberg has just been completed. It represents the Emperor, bare-headed, grasping a marshal's baton. The pedestal bears two inscriptions, one reading: "Germany will never be vanquished when she is united." The other one reads: "Through night and death towards victory."

CROSS FOR 1870 VETERAN.

One of Oldest Volunteers of German Army Is Honored.

Berlin, Aug. 29.—One of the oldest volunteers of the German army, a veteran of the war of 1870-71, has been decorated with the Iron Cross and is highly praised.

HOSPITAL SITE TO BE DECIDED

Alexandrians Await Committee Decision on Placing of $50,000 Structure.

STEELE TO GET THEATER

Several People Will Go to Rectortown to Attend District Conference of M. E. Church South.

Alexandria, Va., Aug. 29.—Where will Alexandria's new $50,000 hospital be built? This question is just now paramount in the minds of many Alexandrians, especially those who have contributed toward the erection of the new building.

However, it will not be definitely answered until the subcommittee of three, appointed some time since to report available sites, in addition to the one purchased for that purpose, files its report with the board of trustees of the hospital.

The question of a site has been a long, drawn-out affair. The matter was finally determined on with the selection of the square ground bounded by Columbus, Alfred, Pendleton and Wythe streets. This site was approved by the trustees. Since its purchase a report has been in circulation to the effect that car sheds probably would be erected near by. The point was raised by some that, in that event, the location would prove an undesirable one for a hospital. This resulted in a committee of three being named to look into and present other available sites.

It is understood that some favor George Washington Park, and others favor the present site of the old structure, which is the southeast corner of Wolfe and Pitt streets, and there are some who favor the selection of the Dainfield property, Washington and Duke streets.

The subcommittee will make its report early next month. It is highly thought that the work of erecting the proposed new hospital will be started before next spring. In the meantime, the work of collecting the pledges given by citizens for the project will be pushed by the finance committee.

Negotiations have been completed by Graham & Ogden, real estate dealers, for the sale of the stock, good will and fixtures of the Surprise Theater, located on the north side of King street between Washington and St. Asaph streets, from Dr. McClure, of Washington, to Ralph A. Steele, of this city.

Mr. Steele will, it is understood, take charge of the Surprise, which is a moving picture establishment, on September 1. Mr. Steele is the owner of the Richmond Theater, which is also a moving picture establishment.

For some time past R. B. Smith, of this city, has been manager of the Surprise Theater, but it is understood will relinquish the management.

A number of people from this city will attend the annual conference of the Alexandria district of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, which will be opened Tuesday morning in Rectortown, Va.

Rev. D. H. Kern, presiding elder, of this city, will preach the opening sermon. Missionary and educational matters will be discussed Wednesday and church literature and Sunday schools will be up for discussion Thursday.

Mrs. Jennie V. Smoot, 54, wife of George W. Smoot, died this afternoon at her home, 519 North Alfred street. Besides her husband she is survived by several children. The funeral arrangements have not been made.

Miss Nellie Reed, a missionary, just returned from Africa, delivered an address tonight at the Free Methodist Church. She exhibited a number of curios.

Gov. Stuart has appointed Miss Gladys Ramey a notary public.

Commonwealths Attorney and Mrs. Samuel G. Brent have returned from Atlantic City.

Martha Washington Chapter, No. 42, Order of Eastern Star, will give its annual excursion Tuesday to Marshall Hall.

Miss Bertha Gray Robinson and brother, Newton Robinson, owners and publishers of the Orange Observer, are guests of Mrs. M. C. C. Peyton.

"WON'T EITHER," SAYS EUGENIA.

Far-famed Tangost Denies She Will Marry Al.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 29.—A message sent to Miss Eugenia Kelly, who is at Mackinac Island, brought the following reply:

"I positively deny being engaged to Al Davis and will never marry him. All talk and rumors are absolutely false."

"EUGENIA E. KELLY."

And this one from her mother:

"My daughter, Miss Eugenia E. Kelly, is positively not engaged to Al Davis and will never marry him. All talk and rumors are absolutely false."

"MRS. EDWARD KELLY."

WARS ON AUTO "SPOONERS."

They've Got to Stay Away, Says "Constitute" of Weston, Mass.

Weston, Mass., Aug. 29.—Chief of Police P. J. McAuliffe hereafter is going to the highways and byways of the town Sunday evenings and "shoot" away lovers who have been coming in automobiles to the still, secluded streets of this town to bill and coo.

Here's McAuliffe's ultimatum to Dan Cupid:

"If spooners who flock to Weston in automobiles don't quit or go somewhere else I'll hale them into court. I was surprised to note how many machines were bailed up for hours last Sunday night in Weston and Wellesley streets while the couples made love. It looked like opera night in Boston. It's got to stop. I don't look right and, besides, no many machines block the highways and make night travel unsafe in Weston."

Small War Exiles Cross Sea Alone.

New York, Aug. 29.—Three children who spent the last fourteen months in Lunenburg sailed on the Panama-Pacific steamer Kronland yesterday to join their parents in San Francisco. Perre Huss, who is 11, had charge of his sisters, Jean, 6, and Noelle, 3, and brought them from Europe himself.

Sketches of Little OLD NEW YORK

By J. M. McIntyre.

Special correspondent of The Washington Herald.

New York, Aug. 29.—Helen Bryer, just 13, is in our city the guest of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children. She comes from a Bangor and it must be quite a place to produce so sophisticated and self-possessed a young person.

When she was picked up on the street she told the lieutenant at the Greenwich street police station that she just got tired of Bangor and its quiet ways.

"I helped myself to $2 of dad's money, and as I have now seen all the sights I guess I may as well go back to Maine. I do not think New York is so much."

But she tempered the blow to metropolitan pride with addenda. She said: "Once a hick, always a hick, I guess."

There are a few who know their New York who will disagree with the little miss from Bangor. She is marvelously molded for city ways. Such ennui, such sang froid, such a penchant for dad's bankroll. They are the things greatly to be desired here.

Despite all the "Safety First" signs that clutter up Forty-second street and Fifth avenue, a sad-eyed chap, with a wealth of Adam's apple, and seated in an old-fashioned buggy attached to a wretched nag, stopped in the middle of the street.

He paid no attention to the shrieks and whistling of the handsome debonair squad of traffic cops. He filled his pipe, lighted it, took a few long draws and then chuckled to the nag to move. In the meantime traffic was becoming stagnant for blocks.

Finally a cop yelled: "Well, come on, coroner, come on." Not bad for a traffic cop.

Unless Rubie Marquard detaches her wretched eye this reaches point, he will not return to the bushes—back where the dream goes pale. Marquard is a mount to be desired here.

The knee watches for ladies may or may not prove popular—that is not for mere man to say. They were introduced at the national jeweler's convention here last week. It was announced in the papers that there would be a demonstration on the following day and the way perfectly respectable male citizens knocked off work about that time bordered on the scandalous. They didn't get in though. Goody! Goody!

It has been this attitude that has been the greatest barrier to civic progress in Manhattan. The average citizen believes that wolves and lions are still being shot on Clark street in Chicago. He doesn't want to leave town. The lamp-post on Park Row is good enough for him!

Frenchman Sends Money to Family of Enemy.

Berlin, Aug. 29.—Capt. Armand Rochefort, a wounded French officer, who is now a prisoner at Mayence, has sent a thousand francs to the family of a German soldier to whom he owes his life.

The captain was struck by a fragment of a German shell in the Argonne forest. A few minutes later the position of his company was stormed.

Franz Schindelin, a corporal of a Wuertemberg regiment, found him unconscious and carried him through a hail of bullets to the ambulance station.

Steamer New York in Port.

Liverpool, Aug. 29.—The American liner steamship New York arrived here today with a record consignment of mail.

ESCAPED PRISONER RETURNS TO CAPTORS

French Aviator Cheered by Flying Notables Goes Back to Internment in Switzerland.

Paris, Aug. 29.—With the Cross of the Legion of Honor, a military medal and a war cross blazing on his breast, and with tears in his eyes, Lieut. Gilbert, the famous aviator, who escaped from Switzerland, entered the Geneva express last night escorted by a captain, to surrender himself to the Swiss authorities in connection with war office orders.

Although Gilbert sent the Swiss authorities a letter withdrawing his parole, they complained he fled from the country without having given notice, and when the Swiss general staff issued a note claiming the aviator had escaped before his parole had really been withdrawn, the French war office decided that rather than have one of their officers besmirched by a breach of the unwritten code of military honor, Gilbert, although one of the most brilliant pilots in the service, must voluntarily return to internment.

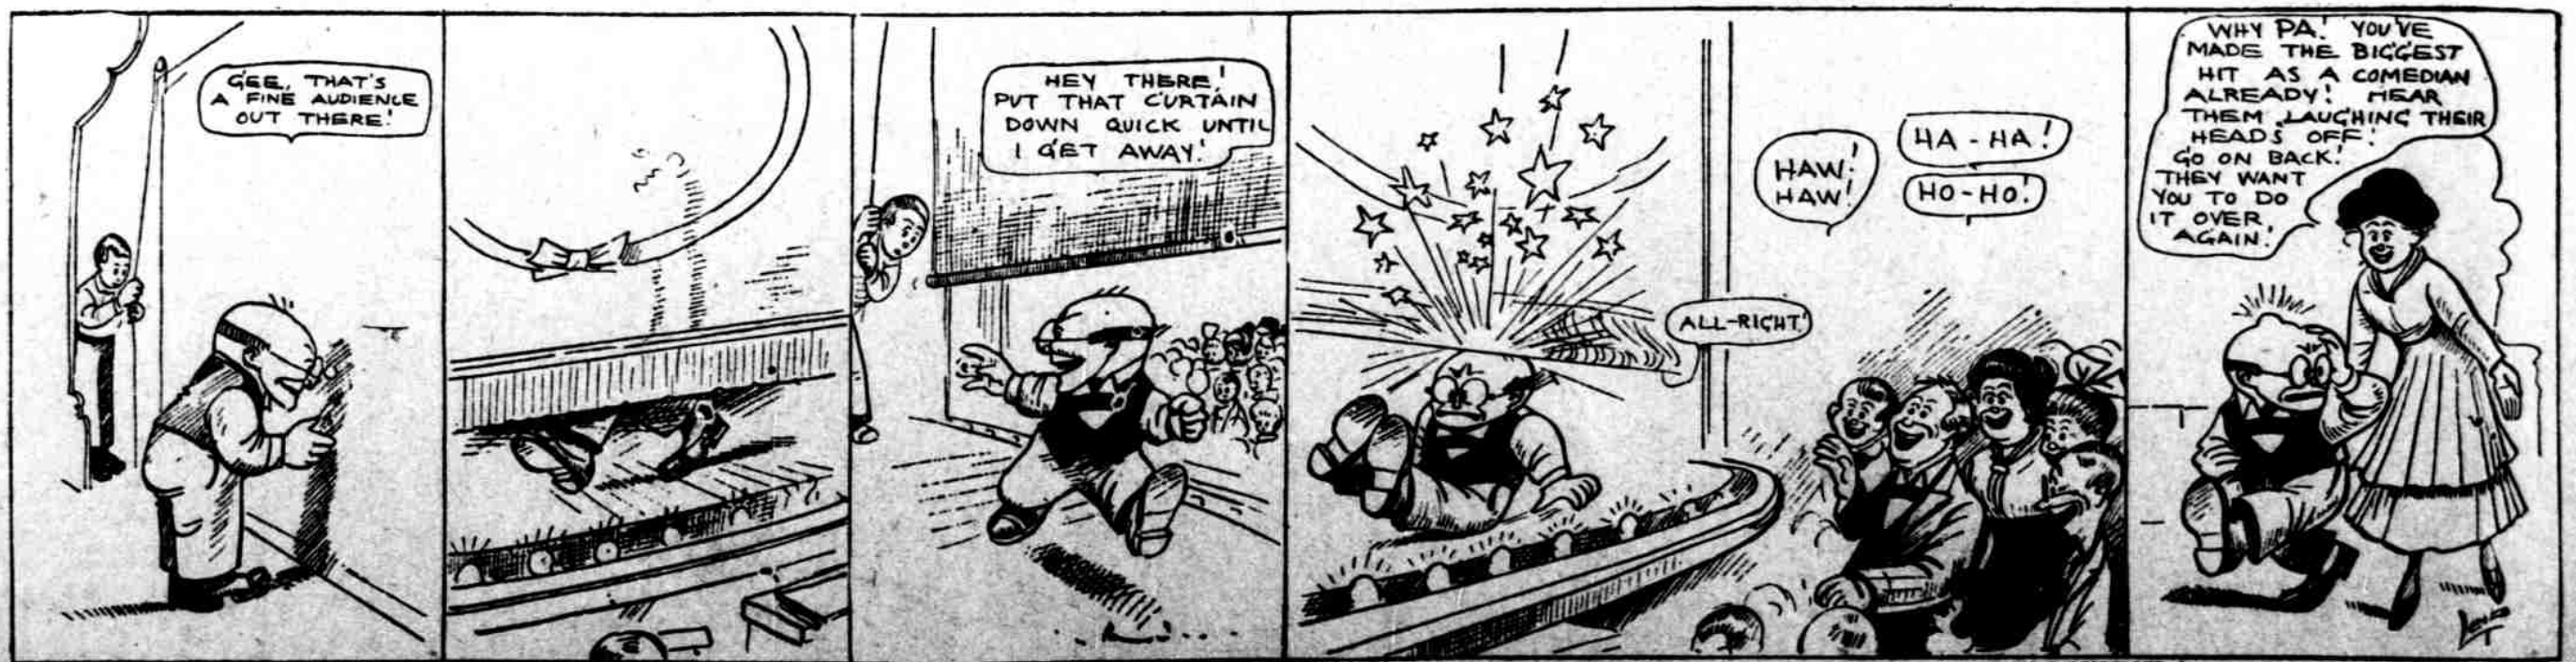

A large crowd of flying notabilities saw him off. At the railway station he said:

"This is the most painful moment of my life. I must either refute the legend that a French officer has failed to keep his word or serve my country to the detriment of my honor. I cannot tolerate the reputation of being a perjurer, and therefore I return to prison."

At 74 Expects to Live to 300.

Pekin, Aug. 29.—Dr. Wu Ting-Fang, former Chinese Minister to the United States, has just celebrated his 74th birthday, and boasts that vegetarian diet keeps him in such splendid condition that he expects to live 150 to 200 years.
